The community was greatly shocked Friday afternoon, August 6, to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. John Morrill. It is thought that every effort was made to stop the horse as Mrs. McGassey said when they passed there that both Mrs. Morrill and Miss Morrill were pulling vigorously on the reins, but the end soon came before the rest of the family could reach her. There is no use of further particulars as it was all in late week's paper, only that the hip strap broke first and as the horse ran the breeching then broke. Miss Morrill was not able to be moved home from Mr. Beck's where she was so well cared for as soon as was expected and Mrs. Beck was not able to care for her any longer so she was moved to Brightbrook hospital and she is still on the gain. The remains of Mrs. Morrill was taken to her home in Barnet where the funeral services were largely attended Monday afternoon at one o'clock. The many flowers showed the kindness of her friends. The services were conducted by Rev. S. C. Reynolds of the Baptist church, Passumpsic, of which she was a member. Three selections were sung by E. F. Skinner and Mrs. Ernest Shepard. Interment was made in the Passumpsic cemetery beside her first husband. Mrs. Morrill was the youngest daughter of Hiral and Esther Heath, was born in Danville, January 16, 1860. On July 14, 1878, she was united in marriage to Clarence Curtis. Two daughters were born to them, Cora and Elsie. Mr. Curtis died September 15, 1898. March 13, 1894, she was married to John D. Morrill, one daughter was born to them, Myrtle. Besides her husband and three daughters, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. William Badger of Passumpsic. Those from away to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Scott Gibson and family of Abbot, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Wolfe of Lyndonville, Mrs. Henry Wallace of East Ryegate, Calvin White of Concord, Maude Flood of Plainfield, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Somers and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haste of West Barnet, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Proctor and Mrs. Henry Beldon of East Haven, also many friends from Danville, St. Johnsbury and vicinity.

Significance of the Ring.
The signet ring and seals were used in Bible times as pledges of different kinds from owner to owner in business transactions. The "Gimmel," or wedding ring, also of Bible times, was a cunningly devised affair in two sections, and at the ceremony one was given to the bride and the other to the groom. This ring has been reproduced at several weddings in recent years as an odd fancy.

SICKNESS COMMON IN SUMMER.
Hay fever is attributed to pollen floating in the air, while asthma is caused by dust and certain atmospheric conditions in the summer. Sufferers who can, seek the mountains or the sea. Hay fever and asthma victims are advised to take a course of relief in Foley's Honey and Tar Compound which cleanses the inflammation, soothes and heals raw and rasping bronchial tubes and helps to overcome difficulty in breathing, and makes sound refreshing sleep possible. Peacham

The Stoddard-McLaughlin Wedding Personals and Locals.

(Mrs. W. S. Sanborn, correspondent.)
A remarkably pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison McLaughlin at South Peacham when their youngest daughter, Mary Eugenie, became the bride of Dwight Brown Stoddard. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. A. Carlson, pastor of the Congregational church in the presence of about 83 relatives and invited friends. The grounds were decorated with Chinese lanterns and the bridal couple stood under a maple tree beneath a wedding bell of flowers and maiden hair ferns. The rooms were decorated with ferns and flowers. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Frank Dubois of Lynn, Mass. Fred J. Stoddard, brother of the groom was best man and Miss Alice Chedel of Gaysville, a classmate of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride's dress was white crepe de chene trimmed with satin and she carried white sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore green and carried pink sweet peas. After the ceremony refreshments of cake, ice cream and punch were served. The wedding gifts were numerous and costly and were of silver, cut glass, linen and a large purse of money. The bride is a graduate of Montpelier seminary and has taught school at Newport, McIndoes, Barnet and one year in the west. The last of her teaching was in Peacham Academy. Both are popular young people and all are glad to know that they are to reside in town at the farm of Andrew Whitehill where Mr. Stoddard has worked for 11 years. They left that night under the usual difficulties for a wedding trip to Montpelier, Lake Champlain and other places.

SHEFFIELD
George L. Bickford's Barn Destroyed by Lightning—Locals.

(Mrs. D. S. Roberts, correspondent.)
Lightning struck the horse barn of G. L. Bickford Sunday night about 11:15 p. m. Mr. Bickford ran to the barn and got out his three horses, one registered Jersey bull and eight head of young stock when the blaze was right in his face. All the hens and some of the turkeys were burned. The large barn, attached to the horse barn, and well filled with hay, was soon burned to the ground. An insurance will partly cover the damage.
